1. PREAMBLE

This information manual has been compiled in accordance with the requirements of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 ("PAIA"). AGA and each of the companies and trusts to which this manual applies, is a private body as defined in PAIA. This manual contains the information specified in section 51(1) of PAIA, which is applicable to such private bodies. This manual provides an outline of the types of records held by AGA and the various companies and trusts in respect of which AGA exercises control, as referred to above, and explains how a person may submit requests for access to these records in terms of PAIA.

PAIA came into operation on 9 March 2001. PAIA seeks, among other things, to give effect to the Constitutional right of access to any information held by the State or by any other person where such information is required for the exercise or protection of any right and gives natural and juristic persons the right of access to records held by either a private or public body, subject to certain limitations, in order to enable them to exercise or protect their rights. Where a request is made in terms of PAIA to a private body, that private body must disclose the information if the requester is able to show that the record is required for the exercise or protection of any rights, and provided that no grounds of refusal contained in PAIA are applicable. PAIA sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to information requests.

Section 51 of PAIA obliges private bodies to compile a manual to enable a person to obtain access to information held by such body and stipulates the minimum requirements that the manual has to comply with.

This Manual constitutes AGA's PAIA manual. This Manual is compiled in accordance with section 51 of PAIA as amended by the Protection of Personal Information Act, 2013 ("POPIA"), which gives effect to everyone's Constitutional right to privacy and largely commenced on 1 July 2020. POPIA promotes the protection of personal information processed by public and private bodies, including certain conditions so as to establish minimum requirements for the processing of personal information. POPIA amends certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information by providing for the establishment of an Information Regulator to exercise certain powers and perform certain duties and functions in terms of POPIA and PAIA, providing for the issuing of codes of conduct and providing for the rights of persons regarding unsolicited electronic communications and automated decision making in order to regulate the flow of personal information and to provide for matters concerned therewith.

This PAIA manual also includes information on the submission of objections to the processing of personal information and requests to delete or destroy personal information or records thereof in terms of POPIA.

6. OBJECTIVES OF THIS MANUAL

The objectives of this Manual are:

- to provide a list of all records held by the legal entity;
- to set out the requirements with regard to who may request information in terms of PAIA as well as the grounds on which a request may be denied;
- to define the manner and form in which a request for information must be submitted; and
- to comply with the additional requirements imposed by POPIA.

7. ENTRY POINT FOR REQUESTS

PAIA provides that a person may only make a request for information, if the information is required for the exercise or protection of a legitimate right.

Information will therefore not be furnished unless a person provides sufficient particulars to enable AGA to identify the right that the requester is seeking to protect as well as an explanation as to why the requested information is required for the exercise or protection of that right. The exercise of an data subject's rights is subject to justifiable limitations, including the reasonable protection of privacy, commercial confidentiality and effective, efficient and good governance. PAIA and the request procedure contained in this Manual may not be used for access to a record for criminal or civil proceedings, nor should information be requested after the commencement of such proceedings.

The Information Officer has been delegated with the task of receiving and co-ordinating all requests for access to records in terms of PAIA, in order to ensure proper compliance with PAIA and POPIA.

The Information Officer will facilitate the liaison with the internal legal team on all of these requests.

All requests in terms of PAIA and this Manual must be addressed to the Information Officer using the details in paragraph 4 above.

The requester has to show that he or she has the right in terms of PAIA to be given access to the records in question and all requests for access will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis in accordance with the provisions of PAIA.

9. HOW MUST A PERSON GO ABOUT ASKING FOR RECORDS?

In terms of section 53 of the PAIA, a requester must use the prescribed form to make a request for access to a record, attached as Appendix E to this Manual. This request must be made to the person designated as the head of AGA, and must be made to the address, fax number or electronic mail address provided above.

The requester must provide sufficient detail on the request form to enable the head of AGA to adequately identify the record or records requested, and the identity of the requester. The requester should also indicate which form of access is required, if the request is granted. The requester should further indicate if he or she wishes to be informed in any other manner and state the necessary particulars to be so informed (e.g. the postal address or fax number of the requester).

The requester must identify the right that he or she is seeking to exercise or protect and provide an explanation of why the requested record is required for the exercise or protection of that right.

If a request is made on behalf of a person, the requester must submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the reasonable satisfaction of the head of AGA.

The head of the private body must notify the requester (other than a personal requester, who is a requester seeking access to a record containing personal information about the requester) by notice, requiring the requester to pay the prescribed request fee (if any) and to provide proof of payment (e.g. a copy of the deposit slip), before further processing the request.

If the request is granted then a further access fee must be paid, which will be calculated by taking into account reproduction costs, search and preparation time and cost, and postal costs. If the search for and preparation of the record for disclosure, including arrangements to make it available in the requested form, requires more than the prescribed hours, the requester will be requested to pay as a deposit, the prescribed portion of the access fee which would be payable if the request is granted. The access fees are discussed in further detail below.

AGA will process requests as soon as is reasonably possible, but within 30 days from receipt of the request, unless third parties are required to be notified of the request or the 30 day period is extended as provided for in PAIA. AGA will notify the requester if the 30 day period for processing a request is to be extended. AGA will notify the requester of its decision in the required form, which is usually in writing. If the requester wishes to be informed of the decision on the request in any other manner, the requester must provide details of the required form and manner of notification.

AGA may, and must in certain instances, refuse access to records on any of the grounds set out in PAIA which include: that access would result in the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about a third party, that it is necessary to protect the commercial information of a third party or of AGA itself, that it is necessary to protect the confidential information of a third party, that it is necessary to protect the safety of individuals or property, that a record constitutes privileged information for the purpose of legal proceedings, or that it is necessary to protect the research information of a third party or AGA itself.

Where a request is refused, a requester may apply to the High Court within 180 days of being informed of the refusal of the request, for an order compelling the record or records requested to be made available to the requester or for another appropriate order. The Court will determine whether the records should be made available or not.

10. AUTOMATICALLY AVAILABLE INFORMATION

Information that is obtainable via AGA's website about AGA is automatically available and need not be formally requested in terms of this Manual.

12. INFORMATION AVAILABLE IN TERMS OF POPIA

12.1. Categories of personal information collected by AGA

AGA may collect information relating to an identifiable, living, natural person, and where it is applicable, an identifiable, existing juristic person, including, but not limited to-

- information relating to the race, gender, sex, pregnancy, marital status, national, ethnic or social origin, colour, sexual orientation, age, physical or mental health, well-being, disability, religion, conscience, belief, culture, language and birth of the person;
- information relating to the education or the medical, financial, criminal or employment history of the person;
- any identifying number, symbol, e-mail address, physical address, telephone number, location information, online identifier or other particular assignment to the person;
- the biometric information of the person;
- the personal opinions, views or preferences of the person;
- correspondence sent by the person that is implicitly or explicitly of a private or confidential nature or further correspondence that would reveal the contents of the original correspondence;

- the views or opinions of another individual about the person; and
- the name of the person if it appears with other personal information relating to the person or if the disclosure of the name itself would reveal information about the person;

12.2. The purpose of processing personal information

In terms of POPIA, personal information must be processed for a specified purpose. The purpose for which personal information is processed by AGA will depend on the nature of the personal information and the particular data subject. This purpose is ordinarily disclosed, explicitly or implicitly, at the time the personal information is collected.

In general, personal information is processed for purposes of dealing with complaints under the CPA, procurement purposes, records management, security, employment and related matters.

12.3. A description of the categories of data subjects

AGA holds information and records on the following categories of data subjects:

- Employees / personnel of AGA;
- Any third party with whom AGA conducts business;
- Contractors of AGA;
- Suppliers of AGA.

(This list of categories of data subjects is non-exhaustive.)

12.4. The recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal information may be supplied

Depending on the nature of the personal information, AGA may supply information or records to the following categories of recipients:

- Statutory oversight bodies, regulators or judicial commissions of enquiry making a request for personal information;
- Any court, administrative or judicial forum, arbitration, statutory commission, or ombudsman making a request for personal information or discovery in terms of the applicable rules;
- South African Revenue Services, or another similar authority;
- Anyone making a successful application for access in terms of PAIA or POPIA; and

- Subject to the provisions of POPIA and other relevant legislation, AGA may share information about a client's creditworthiness with any credit bureau or credit providers industry association or other association for an industry in which AGA operates.

12.5. Planned transborder flows of personal information

If a data subject visits AGA's website from a country other than South Africa, the various communications will necessarily result in the transfer of information across international boundaries.

AGA may need to transfer a data subject's information to service providers in countries outside South Africa, in which case it will fully comply with applicable data protection legislation.

These countries may not have data-protection laws which are similar to those of South Africa.

12.6. A general description of information security measures to be implemented by AGA

AGA takes extensive information security measures to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of personal information in our possession. AGA takes appropriate technical and organisational measures designed to ensure that personal information remains confidential and secure against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage.

13. INFORMATION AVAILABLE IN TERMS OF OTHER LEGISLATION

Information is available in terms of certain provisions of the following legislation to the persons or entities specified in such legislation:

- Administration of Estates Act 66 of 1965
- Basic Conditions of Employment Act 75 of 1997

14. CATEGORIES OF RECORDS AVAILABLE UPON REQUEST

AGA maintains records on the categories and subject matters listed below. Please note that recording a category or subject matter in this Manual does not imply that a request for access to such records would be granted. All requests for access will be evaluated on a case by case basis in accordance with the provisions of PAIA.

Please note further that many of the records held by AGA are those of third parties, such as clients and employees, and AGA takes the protection of third party confidential information very seriously. For further information on the grounds of refusal of access to a record please see paragraph 15.5 below. Requests for access to these records will be considered very carefully. Please ensure that requests for such records are carefully motivated.

15. REQUEST PROCEDURE

15.1. Completion of the prescribed form

Any request for access to a record from a public body in terms of PAIA must substantially correspond with the form included in Appendix A hereto.

A request for access to information which does not comply with the formalities as prescribed by PAIA will be returned to you.

POPIA provides that a data subject may, upon proof of identity, request AGA to confirm, free of charge, all the information it holds about the data subject and may request access to such information, including information about the identity of third parties who have or have had access to such information.

POPIA also provides that where the data subject is required to pay a fee for services provided to him/her, AGA must provide the data subject with a written estimate of the payable amount before providing the service and may require that the data subject pays a deposit for all or part of the fee.

Grounds for refusal of the data subject's request are set out in PAIA and are discussed below.

POPIA provides that a data subject may object, at any time, to the processing of personal information by AGA, on reasonable grounds relating to his/her particular situation, unless legislation provides for such processing. The data subject must complete the prescribed form attached hereto as Appendix C and submit it to the Information Officer at the postal or physical address, facsimile number or electronic mail address set out above.

A data subject may also request AGA to correct or delete personal information about the data subject in its possession or under its control that is inaccurate, irrelevant, excessive, out of date, incomplete, misleading or obtained unlawfully; or destroy or delete a record of personal information about the data subject that AGA is no longer authorised to retain records in terms of POPIA's retention and restriction of records provisions.

A data subject that wishes to request a correction or deletion of personal information or the destruction or deletion of a record of personal information must submit a request to the Information Officer at the postal or physical address, facsimile number or electronic mail address set out above on the form attached hereto as Appendix D.

15.2. Proof of identity

Proof of identity is required to authenticate your identity and the request. You will, in addition to this prescribed form, be required to submit acceptable proof of identity such as a certified copy of your identity document or other legal forms of identity.

15.3. Payment of the prescribed fees

There are two categories of fees which are payable:

- The request fee: R50
- The access fee: This is calculated by taking into account reproduction costs, search and preparation costs, as well as postal costs. These fees are set out in Appendix B.

Section 54 of PAIA entitles AGA to levy a charge or to request a fee to enable it to recover the cost of processing a request and providing access to records. The fees that may be charged are set out in Regulation 9(2)(c) promulgated under PAIA.

Where a decision to grant a request has been taken, the record will not be disclosed until the necessary fees have been paid in full.

15.4. Timelines for consideration of a request for access

Requests will be processed within 30 (thirty) days, unless the request contains considerations that are of such a nature that an extension of the time limit is needed. Should an extension be required, you will be notified, together with reasons explaining why the extension is necessary.

15.5. Grounds for refusal of access and protection of information

There are various grounds upon which a request for access to a record may be refused. These grounds include:

- the protection of personal information of a third person (who is a natural person) from unreasonable disclosure;
- the protection of commercial information of a third party (for example: trade secrets; financial, commercial, scientific or technical information that may harm the commercial or financial interests of a third party);
- if disclosure would result in the breach of a duty of confidence owed to a third party;

- if disclosure would jeopardise the safety of an individual or prejudice or impair certain property rights of a third person;
- if the record was produced during legal proceedings, unless that legal privilege has been waived;
- if the record contains trade secrets, financial or sensitive information or any information that would put AGA (at a disadvantage in negotiations or prejudice it in commercial competition); and/or
- if the record contains information about research being carried out or about to be carried out on behalf of a third party or by AGA.

Section 70 PAIA contains an overriding provision. Disclosure of a record is compulsory if it would reveal (i) a substantial contravention of, or failure to comply with the law; or (ii) there is an imminent and serious public safety or environmental risk; and (iii) the public interest in the disclosure of the record in question clearly outweighs the harm contemplated by its disclosure.

If the request for access to information affects a third party, then such third party must first be informed within 21 (twenty one) days of receipt of the request. The third party would then have a further 21 (twenty one) days to make representations and/or submissions regarding the granting of access to the record.

16. REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO A REQUESTER ON REFUSAL OF ACCESS

If the Information Officer decides to grant you access to the particular record, such access must be granted within 30 (thirty) days of being informed of the decision.

There is no internal appeal procedure that may be followed after a request to access information has been refused. The decision made by the Information Officer is final. In the event that you are not satisfied with the outcome of the request, you are entitled to apply to the Information Regulator or a court of competent jurisdiction to take the matter further.

Where a third party is affected by the request for access and the Information Officer has decided to grant you access to the record, the third party has 30 (thirty) days in which to appeal the decision in a court of competent jurisdiction. If no appeal has been lodged by the third party within 30 (thirty) days, you must be granted access to the record.

17. AVAILABILITY OF THIS MANUAL
